

POPULISTS CAN'T WIN.

So Says the Address Issued by Democratic Editors.

DON'T VOTE THE POPULIST TICKET

It Says to the Democratic Voter—Result of the Editors' Meeting Here.

The Democratic editors adjourned last evening after giving out an address to the Democrats of Kansas. The address was prepared by a committee composed of W. A. Eaton of the Kingman Democrat, J. H. Padgett of the Salina Herald, John E. Watrous of the Burlington Independent, Frank L. Webster of the Lawrence Gazette, and Thomas A. Fairchild of the Halton Signal. The address is as follows:

On careful consideration of the political situation in the state of Kansas based on the most conservative figures, we are convinced that the Populist state ticket is defeated beyond the possibility of a doubt. We have our conclusion on the situation as it exists. In 1892 the Republican vote was in round numbers 156,000, and the combined vote of the Democrats and Populists was 162,000, being a majority of only 6,000. Take the lowest estimate made by the most sanguine Populist and enough votes will be cast for the Democratic ticket to leave the Populists in a hopeless minority.

This being the case, what earthly incentive can any man have who ever has been or expects to be a democrat, to vote the Populist ticket?

The Populist party has run its course. It has no future; it has attempted to capture certain states of the south and get a footing there and utterly failed. It proclaimed its purpose and its ability last year to carry the state of Virginia against the Democrats and it procured the assistance of two members of congress from this state who had professed to be Democrats and who owed their election to the Democratic party; and in that undertaking the Populists utterly failed.

This year it attempted the same thing and allied itself with every opposing faction in Tennessee to defeat the Democratic party and utterly failed.

Again it made the attempt in Alabama and was swept down by an avalanche of Democracy, while in Oregon the Populist party was annihilated. All these things together with the utter failure of Populists to suggest any remedies for existing evils except such as are incited with socialism, the direct enemy of free government, and likewise the incompetency and absolute inability of the present administration to carry out the end of Populism in Kansas, led to the conclusion that the Populist state committee has given up all hope of electing their state ticket and is now concentrating all efforts on the legislature. The Republican party is wandering aimlessly. It is afraid to say that it is for prohibition; it is afraid to say it is against it. It is afraid to say that it is for the tariff; it is afraid to say it is against it. It dodges the silver question and every other question which at all concerns the people. It stands for nothing, believes in nothing, favors nothing, in point of merit amounts to nothing, and is simply held together by the collective pervers of the hope of public plunder. For any Democrat, under these circumstances, to abandon Democracy and vote the Republican or Populist ticket, is not only to lose his vote, but likewise to abandon his principles.

There are over one hundred thousand Democratic votes in the state. No other party in the state presents anything the people want. The people are almost unanimously in favor of the Democratic platform. They yearn for the things which the Democratic party proposes to give them, and they only wait for a sign that the Democratic party is in earnest and means to support its ticket to flock to it by the thousands. Democrats, let us be men. Let us be true. Let us be faithful. Let us be loyal. Let us be honest. Let us stand by our party to a man, believing as we do in its deathless principles, and a glorious victory awaits us.

Now, therefore, we the Democratic editors of Kansas do hereby mutually pledge ourselves, each to the other, and solemnly declare to all the world, that we will stand by the Democratic ticket, nominated at Topeka on the 3rd of July, until the last vote is counted in November.

In the evening Eugene Hagan tendered an informal reception to the editors who did not go home in the afternoon, at the Topeka club. The evening was spent pleasantly in true Democratic fashion, during which a light supper was served.

There was to have been a parade in the evening, and Kansas avenue was crowded with people waiting for the display. They waited in vain, for there was no parade, and the announcement was given out that it had been postponed until Senator Martin returns, when a "monster" demonstration will be made.

THE HUTCHINSON REUNION.

Populists Seek to Enjoin the Payment of $300 by the City.

The Hutchinson Gazette says there is talk of enjoining the city council of Hutchinson to prevent its paying the expenses of the late state G. A. R. reunion. It seems that the city council authorized the issuance of $300 in city script to pay the expenses of the reunion, and the local Populists, who say the reunion was not a non-partisan affair as promised, but a Republican demonstration, object. Speaking of the use of the people's money the Gazette says:

"nobody seems to know just what was done with the money; probably they never will know, but no one cares particularly what was done with it—it is the manner in which it was obtained that the people are looking at."

"There is talk of enjoining the council from paying it, which should be done instantaneously, for it is an outrage, these hard times, to use the people's money in that way. If it is paid, then the mayor and council will be asked by the people of the city to reimburse the city out of their own pockets."

"The Populist tax payers of this city do not feel like being taxed, forcibly taxed, to pay the expenses of Republican rallies. They have no notion of doing it and will not."

"Had the meeting been an old soldiers' meeting, conducted upon non-partisan lines, there would have been a disposition upon the part of the people to bear it; but as it was a political harangue, in which all Populists were maligned and insulted, they will not stand it."

P. P. ELDER STARTS A PAPER.

To Occupy the Field Abandoned By Ed Snow's Paper.

State printer E. H. Snow who moved his paper away from Ottawa last winter is still a factor in Franklin county politics and is fighting P. P. Elder as when he lived in the county.

Mr. Snow is backing Secretary R. H. Sample of the Populist state central committee in his effort to secure a renomination for member of the legislature and at the same time is getting in a lick at his old time enemy P. P. Elder who also wants the nomination for representative.

Elder has issued a circular to the Franklin county Populists in which he talks about "The Topeka Gang." He says:

"If you think the Snow-Costigan-Sample quarrel will be quieted by the endorsement of Sample you are badly off. Do you want to send a delegation to endorse Sample's vote for Martin for U. S. senator? A Democrat who is now coming to Kansas to stump against our party. See vote of Sample; House Journal, page 123. This was a combination vote to get Democratic votes for Snow for printer."

In conclusion he says: "I am here to stay and all I have is here. My enemies have left the country only to return to make trouble and discord in the party."

There will be a People's party paper in Ottawa in the next thirty days, that will stop personalities and party discord, and be run in the interest of the whole party, and this being my last effort, all discord will be over then."

The latter part of the Elder circular is understood to mean that he will start a paper of his own in Ottawa which will support the entire Populist state ticket and will advocate woman's suffrage.

By doing this he hopes to shut Snow entirely out of Franklin county politics.

VOTERS LEAVING THE WEST.

Gov. Lewelling Says Many Republicans Are Going as Populists.

"It is not true," said Governor Lewelling, who has just returned from a campaign tour in the western portion of the state, "that the Populists are losing more voters by the exodus than the Republicans. The reports of people leaving the western counties are greatly exaggerated but there are some going."

"I talked to a great many people and I am safe in saying that we are losing no more than the Republicans. When a farmer leaves, he loads what he can take into wagons and everybody knows that he is going. When people leave town, as in one notices it, for they go out quietly without making any demonstration. That is how I account for the reports that the Populists are rapidly leaving the west."

"Things look all right for us in the west," said the governor.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Little Romp" Today's Bill at the Museum—Haverly's Minstrels.

Another good audience attended the Goodrich performance last night. The play was "Ships That Pass in the Night." Tonight the bill will be "Little Romp." The company gives a matinee every afternoon.

Haverly's minstrels will be here Saturday night. The company is said to be up to its old standard. The following few names will give one an idea of the excellence of the company in its entirety. Burt Shepard, Harry Armstrong, Alf Gibson, Harry Budworth, E. M. Wayne, Constantine and Lyons, Marion and Pearl, Kohl and Barney, Castelli Bridges, Albert Hawthorne, etc. A special feature is made this season of the vocal department.

GOOD CORN IN SHAWNEE.

There Are Ears of It That Are Twelve Inches Long.

Dry weather has not burnt up all the corn in Shawnee county, as is proven by some large ears left at the STATE JOURNAL office today by Mr. J. R. Taylor. Mr. Taylor has sixty ears of upland corn, six miles southwest of the city, which he says will make at the lowest estimate thirty bushels to the acre.

The ears left at this office, which Mr. Taylor says are a fair sample of his crop are twelve inches in length and fully developed.

Shawnee county farmers who have corn, and most of them have, will get good prices for their crops.

THE TOPEKA RACES.

There Will Be 200 Entries and Some Fine Horses Among Them.

The Topeka races next month promise much for horse admirers in the way of speed and other desirable attractions. The racing association is fortunate in having its event follow closely after the races at Lincoln and St. Joe, when all the good horses will be easily available. There are at least 200 entries and there will be racing races every day as well as trotting and pacing.

Robbie B. of Decatur, Ill., will control the pools and book-making. They were here in 1891 and 1892 and have the reputation of being the straightest in their line.

Harris Bros. of Houston, Mo., will be here with their phenomenal pacing colts that promise well to smash more than one record.

One of these, the yearling "S. P." paced a half in 1:40½ and a quarter in 38½ seconds.

"P. J." a two-year-old, went a mile in 2:23½.

Mart Beardsley of Ottawa will bring his trotting mare Lurline to show the people of Topeka some good horse flesh. Lurline will probably enter the 2:17 class. Aside from being one of the fastest in Kansas Lurline is a remarkable horse, having brindle spots that make her look much like an overgrown hyena.

JOHN GUTHRIE, AUTHOR.

The Ex-District Judge Writing a Book About Kansas Pioneer Life.

Judge John Guthrie is writing a book about Kansas pioneer life. The scene is laid at Leocompton, and the old 18-room stone house built by Governor Stanton is the home of the principal characters. The story is to be one of ante-bellum days. Although Judge Guthrie has contributed largely to Kansas literature this is his first novel. He has decided on all his characters, the plot. He has made considerable progress on the work.

The judge states, however, that he is writing it largely for his own satisfaction and doesn't know yet whether it will ever get into print.

A NEW DRY GOODS HOUSE

To be Established Here by Topeka Ladies and D. J. Harding.

Topeka is to have a new large retail dry goods store.

Mr. D. J. Harding of Boston who as announced in the JOURNAL a few weeks ago was figuring on going into business in Topeka has arranged with Mrs. C. P. Wiggin and Mrs. Margaret Wiggin to invest a part of their fortunes in business and will open a dry goods establishment about the first of February next in the large room now occupied by Clements & Chaffee.

Mr. Harding is now traveling for a Boston wholesale clothing firm and his contract ends February 1st when he will come to Topeka and take charge of the new dry goods establishment.

Clement & Chaffee have secured another location and will vacate their present quarters at the expiration of their lease.

The funeral of Dr. M. O'Brien, who died Tuesday evening, was held this morning at the Church of the Assumption and was largely attended. The altar was heavily draped in black.

WHITE HORSE AND FITS.
A Police Court Character Fails to Make a Good Case.

Two drunks were all Judge Eusminger and City Attorney Hungeate had to entertain themselves with this morning. They were Charles Turner and Charles Bryant, and had been captured in the city park last night in a "dish rag" condition and taken to the station in the city cart.

Turner was the first called and gave as an excuse for his conduct that his friend had fits. The judge didn't think it a good excuse and assessed him the usual $5.

Charles Bryant, Turner's friend, was next called and wisely pleaded guilty. He took his fine of $5 without a tremor and will spend five days having fits and breaking rock for the amusement of the city.

The police had a great time with the funeral cortege this morning. They played a solemn dirge. The procession was met at the door of the church by Father Hayden and assistants in their sacerdotal robes and conducted up the central aisle to the chancel. The funeral party was made up of the family and relatives and the members of the Topeka Academy of Medicine.

The coffin was hid beneath a profusion of flowers. The largest floral piece was of white roses and was sent by Geo. R. Peck, who was an intimate friend of the deceased. The Topeka Academy of Medicine sent a large cross of amilies and white roses which stood near the head of the coffin.

The pall bearers were Doctors S. E. Stewart, D. C. Jones, J. E. Minner, L. H. Munn, Capt. S. Gunther and W. F. Parker. The interment took place in the Catholic cemetery, Mt. Calvary, three miles west of the city.

The next meeting of the Topeka Academy of Medicine will be a memorial meeting in honor of Dr. O'Brien, and Doctors Munn, Stewart and McGuire have been appointed to draft suitable resolutions.

BOGUS SALVATION ARMY.
Major Sully Says There is One Running in Kansas.

Noticing in your issue of last evening the telegraphic report from Emporia in respect to a "row" in the Salvation Army of that place, I take the opportunity to state that the organization running meetings in that city has no connection with the original Salvation Army of which General Booth is the leader, nor have we ever had any officers or soldiers authorized to organize a corps in that city.

The "Union Salvation Army" running meetings and otherwise conducting themselves in imitation of the Salvation Army at Emporia, Junction City, Concordia, Belleville, Washington and a few other places in Kansas have no connection with the original movement of which I have the honor of supervising throughout the southwest. Sincerely yours,

GEORGE SULLY, Major S. A. 817-05.
